

Your role as a volunteer!

An organization is people. People work toward the organization's goals; people with enthusiasm and dedication to those goals make the organization succeed. That enthusiasm and dedication come from a constant infusion of new blood into the group -- the new volunteers. Volunteers really are needed now more than ever to meet overwhelming needs, especially in social, health, and educational services.

You can do your part to help and support your communities - work smarter, faster and bolder by:

- Providing support to a needy cause
- Inspiring and sharing experiences and successes with others
- Positioning yourself as a resource for others
- Connecting with others who will help amplify your impact
- Team building
- Enhancing public relations
- Working with a diverse group of people
- Develop priorities

You will:

- Feel good about yourself and others
- Grow
- Receive work experience
- Connect with others who will help amplify your impact
- Develop priorities
- Learn
- Develop personal growth & spiritual fulfillment
- Produce

We Grow . . .
We Learn . . .
We Produce . . .